Austin.-The Austin Reveille comments on the apathy which the news of the damage caused by the late cloudburst was received throughout the State We think that the lack of the expression sympathy arose from other cause of sympathy arose from other causes than the lack of a real, sincere and lively regard for the gay little city of Austin and its inhabitants. In the first place the wires were out of order, and the news was received twenty-four hours behind time. In the next place, when it was received the dispatches spoke so hopefully and cheerfully, while admitting a very severe loss, that offers of assistance seemed out of place. We think, on the other hand, that if Austin called for help there is scarcely a man in the State that would not have sent something, especially those who, like ourselves, have spent many a pleasant hour in the city spent many a pleasant hour in the city of the Tolyabe.

Fing.-About 10 o'clock on Sunday evening the alarm of fire caused all our citizens to turn out. The fire was found to be above the No. 3 hoisting works of the Meadow Valley. It was confined to a single cabin, which was entirely cona single cabin, which was entirely con-sumed. The department did the best they could to get at the fire with their apparatus, but were unable to do much good. The Hook and Ladder Company left their truck, but carried their hooks to the scene of action. Earl Hamilton carried one on horseback. The Hose Company were ordered not to take their hose reel out, as from the great distance from the hydrants it was impossible to throw a stream on the burning building. The loss, though serious to the owners of the cabin, is not large.

THE GORMAN CHILDREN.-Mr. Campbell informs us that in addition to the net proceeds of the benefit given by the Pioche Minstrels, amounting to $374. that $109 was collected by Fred Baker, and the total sum now in the hands of the trustees is $483. A handsome donation, and will do much toward promoting the welfare of these orphan children. On Saturday last an order was made in the District Court which will enable the children to enter the Siste Orthan Asylumn, where the State Orphan Asylumn, where they will be properly cared for. The mountain boys may be a little rough, but when orphan children appeal to them for help, they never fail to generously respond. generously respond ANOTHER FIRE took place last evening about 11 o'clock. About that time large cabin situated on the hill back of Mr. Clark's residence, and tenanted by some Chinese, blazed away in good some Chinese, blazed away in good earnest. In a few minutes the fire boys had out their hose, which they attached to the hydrant at the Water office and then carried up the hill. So soon as the water came through the nozzle it madeshort work of the fire, and thus saved the greater portion of the building. The members of the department are entitled to much credit for the ready and active willingness which they exhibit in endeavoring to save the property of their fellow citizens.

For SHERIFF .- John Roeder announce

J. R. Kittrell and Harman Kirchene leave for the West. Apart from political leanings, these gentlemen are very pleasant, whole-souled men, and are calculated to make friends anywhere, and, what is more, deserve their confidence. We wish them a safe and pleasant journey.

W. H. Sheppand, night foreman of the Consolidated Virginia mine, who was so severely injured last Sunday night by a lump of clay and rock falling upon his back, was so much better yesterday that his friends now consider him as being out of danger.—[Virg. Enterprise, 20.

REFITTED.-The billiard table at the Dolly Varden Saloon, on Lacour street, has been refitted, renovated and re-paired, and is now a first-class table in every respect. Those who like to show their skill with the ivory spheres can do so most agreeably at the Dolly Varden Salone

This morning, about half-past six o'clock, as an engineer of the Gould & Curry mine was holsting a cage, containing two cars heavily loaded with rock, up the main shaft, the large cog-wheel attached to the engine suddenly flew in pieces, much in the same manner as the fly-wheel at the Belcher mine broke, on last Monday morning. The wheel is about affect feet in diameter. The outside rim is of cast iron and is about a foot wide, by six inches in thickness. The outside of the rim is formed of heavy cogs, which fit into those of a smaller wheel. Attached to the larger wheel is a drum, around which the wire cable passes, and thence over the gallows frame down into the shaft.

About half of the wheel broke off, in three or four pieces, and had it been revolving with great velocity, serious damage would have been done by the flying fragments, as the platform about the mouth of the shaft was crowded with miners ready to go down on the 7 o'clock shift. Immediately afterward the wire rope peried and saveral of these mouth of the shaft was crowded with miners ready to go down on the 7 o'clock shift. Immediately afterward the wire rope parted and several of these men made a narrow escape from being atruck by the cable as it went flying about through the sir. A general stamped took place, and they soon got out of the way of danger. The eagr was left about 100 feet from the mouth of the shaft and was saved from falling to the bottom by a patent safety apparatus.

Had the accident occurred a few minutes later, when the men were on their way down in the mine, they would have been left in the shaft without any means whatever of getting out, or might have been precipitated to the bottom. The former alternative would have been the preferable one, but to have been obliged to remain on a cage in a wet shaft, hundreds of feet from the surface unable to escape, would have been no pleasant predicament.

escape, would have been no pleasant prodicament.

No cause can be given for the accident, unless it is found that the ascending cage was too heavily loaded. The break in the wheel is a clean fracture and no mark of unsoundness is visible. The occurrence of two disasters of a similar occurrence of two disasters of a similar nature, within so short a time, gives rise to the question whether the machinery, at the leading mines, is strong enough for the purpose intended. Miners, who are compelled to trust their lives a dozen times a day to the security of a hoisting apparatus, are deeply interested in the matter, and feel that some means ought to be provided by which their safety may, at least in this respect, be insured. There are enough unavoidable dangers to be encountered in the depths of the earth, without being subjected to those arising from insecure machinery.—[Virg. Chronicle, 19th.

offered $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of each.

Thursday night, August 13th, the Austin stage was robbed, three miles south of Vick's Station, by two men—no doubt being the same persons who robbed the Eureka stage Monday. Wells, Fargo & Co. offer a reward of $250 each, for the arrest and conviction of these robbers. Soon after this last robbery, through the courtesy of Sheriff Sullivan, we were put in possession of an accurate description of the men and their horses, but in accordance with his request we did not in possession of an accurate description of the men and their horses, but in accordance with his request we did not make it public. The two men are mounted on horseback, and were tracked directly from the place of the Eureka robbery to near Vick's Station, by Under Sheriff Walsh, of Eureka, Joe Dean, of Garden Valley.

One horse, red roan, or strawberry roan; the other, a black. One shod all around, small heel cork; the other shod with plain riding shoes, right fore foot bare, small round tracks. One horse has a sore back.

The description of the men is probably a correct one: One man about five feet six or seven inches high; plump, round, red-face; rather sandy whiskers, about two months' growth, on the side of the face, longer about the chin; mustache; black hat; considerable of a talker.

Other man—Five feet nine or ten inches high; alim built; desk complexion; weight, probably 140 pounds; probably not over 30 years of age; light colored pants with very slim legs; dark frock coat; rather high crowned stiff black hat, narrow rim, sides of rim rolled up, front and back droop down, rather fancy and new looking; whiskers dark, two months' growth on cheeka, something longer about the ohin; long, thin face; don't talk much; voice as though he spoke through his nose indistinct, may be assumed, but probably not.

One has a small gold ring on the third finger.

One wears a No. 6 boot, very small heel; heels stand under very much. The other wears about a No. 8 boot, row of nails around the heel and sole.

If arrested, search them immediately (especially for fancy buckskin glove, mate found), taking everything from them; separate them so they can not converse together, and telegrarh Sheriff at Eureka and Austin. Also inform Wells, Farno & Co.'s agents on the railroad.

The last known of them they were going toward Carrico lake, between Reeseriver and Cortez range of mountains, with officers following on their track.—

that he is a candidate for the position of Sheriff. We have nothing to do with party politics; but this we may say, that Mr. Roeder has filled the office of County Treasurer most efficiently, ditigently and honestly. He is a well known and worthy citizen, and we believe will always be found to be trustworthy and competent in any office which may be entrusted to him by his fellow citizens.
